Chateau de Bagatelle

On a wager with Marie Antoinette, in 1780, the Comte d'Artois (later Charles X, the second King of the Restoration), built an entrancing little chateau, with its charming gardens in the incredibly brief time of 64 days. The outlay was three million francs.

"C'est magnifique!", exclaimed Marie Antoinette, on catching her first glimpse of the beauty spot which became an enduring reminder of her wager. "Mais, non, c'est une bagatelle" answered the gallant Comte d'Artois. So in this romantic manner the name "Bagatelle" originated.

The gardens of the Chateau de Bagatelle, near Paris, are now used as testing grounds to determine the value of new roses, sent from all parts of the world. A most interesting place! So is the Bagatelle Nursery with its specimen evergreens, ornamental trees, Rhododendrons and new Azaleas. A cordial welcome awaits you.

— — Hollandia

After an extremely severe winter in Holland we found in a large block of seedling Chamaecyparis Lawsoniana four to five feet high, one plant which had not suffered at all.

It had its deep green color as in the summer showing its fern-like, soft drooping branches. All other plants in the block were entirely dead. We imported some plants grown in Holland to test their hardiness in this country and did not propagate any until we found that after the very severe winter of '34-35 they had not suffered at all not even the unprotected small plants propagated since that winter. We are now offering this fine addition to the evergreens for the first time.

Rhododendron Hybrids

The Bagatelle Nursery makes a specialty of growing Rhododendrons and have first class facilities to do so. Experiments, at great cost have been made in the last ten years to test hardiness for outside plantings in the vicinity of New York and Boston.

The winter of 1942-43 did considerable damage to Rhododendrons in many places. Not one variety of our collection showed damage except that some of the flower buds were partially hurt.

We would appreciate to have your order in the fall. We either ship your plants at that time, when you can give them a slight protection, or we take care of your order over the winter.

We have indicated after each variety the maximum height available from 12 inches up.

COLLECTION OF NAMED VARIETIES:

America

Red, very pronounced blotches. (2½ ft.)

Album elegans

Buds pale lilac, open flowers white. (6 ft.)

We Cordially Invite You to Visit Our Nursery

HOW TO REACH US:

By train: Come to Huntington, Wyandanch or Babylon. Notify us of your arrival, and we will be glad to call for you.
Tel. Farmingdale 850.

By automobile from New York: Take "Midtown Tunnel" (Second Avenue and Thirty-Seventh Street, East), taking you to Queens Boulevard. Turn right and proceed on Queens Boulevard for about six miles. Turn left into Grand Central Parkway, proceed further on Northern State Parkway (the continuation of Grand Central Parkway) and turn off at "Old Country Road" (sign W 2). Turn left on Old Country Road and be guided by signs and arrows.

From Connecticut: Take Whitestone Bridge to Northern State Parkway and continue as directed above.

Our Sales Office is a few hundred feet west of Route 110 on the Jericho Turnpike at Huntington, next to Dahlstroms famous restaurant. To reach the nursery from there, turn south from the Turnpike on Route 110, and follow signs.

WHAT THE ASTERISK (*) IN THIS LIST MEANS

It means to indicate a grade of smaller nursery stock than we have offered in previous lists. This material is not "lining-out-stock", it is two years old and has been transplanted. It will be shipped Bare Root, well puddled.

It is the kind of stock that nurserymen should order to be prepared to meet the demand when the war is over. The usual "lining-out-stock" will not be large enough when the many houses are built and neglected gardens and foundation plantings are re-planted.

We intend to make deliveries in the Fall of 1944 or Spring 1945.
